Highway Officials Confer Here On Ramona Freeway

A conference of local leaders with state highway officials at Ontario city hall this morning failed to yield answers to the two main questions about the proposed Highway 99 (Ramona) freeway.

Still unanswered were the queries:

Will the road be depressed for its length along the boundary route between the two cities?

Will over or underpasses be provided at five principal cross streets—Campus, Sultana, Euclid, San Antonio and Mountain avenues.

Many Attend

A large delegation of property owners and other interested persons crowded the council chambers for the meeting.

Neither question can be settled, District Engineer E. Q. Sullivan declared, until completion of the official survey.

And the highway is apparently a year or more in the future, even if cooperation between state officials and the two local city governments speeds things to the maximum.

Open meetings in both Ontario and Upland will probably be held before the two city governments sign official agreements with the state, it was developed.

The question of whether or not the highway is to be depressed (local proponents want it sunk below the surface of the ground between Campus and San Antonio avenues) was raised by Upland Councilman Paul Hottel.

Sullivan's reply was not encouraging. He said the answer is not yet known, but that present plans "do not call for it."

Probed by Councilman E. Miller Dietz, Ontario on the question of overpasses, Sullivan assured everyone that safety will be a paramount consideration in planning the road, and that every consideration will be given to question of overpasses.

Assurance to citrus growers, several of whom wanted to know the status of their properties, came from Fred Grumm, state highway engineer. "You will probably get a couple of more crops before we cut into your groves, if we ever do," Grumm said.

Increase Values

Sullivan told the audience it was his opinion that property values along the freeway route will be increased, rather than depressed, by the new road.

"Some property owners will be hurt, however," he admitted.

State officials in attendance at the meeting, which was presided over by Assemblyman R. Fred Price, included James Guthrie, state highway commission member; Mr. Sullivan, George Savage, commission secretary, and J. W. Vickery, assistant state highway engineer.

Others were B. A. Switzer, district traffic engineer, C. B. Cane, planning engineer, County Supervisor Will Mason, L. J. Barden and Alfred Signorio, Cucamonga; Mayor Eugene Nisbet, City Manager R. G. Manley and Councilmen E. Tweed Stone, James Goodban and Paul Hottel, Upland plus Ontario city officials led by Mayor Roy B. Boles.

Following the public meeting, the group embarked on a tour of the proposed freeway route. They lunched at Hotel Orange and will visit the Prado road site south of Ontario this afternoon.

CORRESPONDENT

We met Ed Kennedy, now managing editor of the Santa Barbara News-Press for the first time the other night.

Kennedy is the man who set the European army high command on its ear with his unauthorized 'flash' of the German armistic which concluded the first phase of World War II.

The army, you may remember, slapped a strict censorship on the news of peace, despite the fact that everyone in Europe knew the war was over.

Kennedy expressed his feelings in the matter by telegraphing the news against orders, and promptly got himself and his news service—the Associated Press—suspended.

Since the war, however, high military commanders have come around to the view the Kennedy was right and the censors wrong. His military press credentials were ordered restored by Gen. Dwight D. Eisensower.

Accident Victims Plane Is Found

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The state department announced today that the wreckage of an American diplomatic plane, missing since Sunday with five army airmen, had been found in a mountainous area of Iran.

Not Stolen, Just Moved

Upland police today reported solution of a petty theft allegedly committed at the home of A. H. Lidig, 762 East Ninth street.

Lidig complained that someone had stolen the garbage can from his home. Investigating, police discovered the garbage can had been moved down the street a few houses. Case solved!

Core of Atom Bomb Is Size Of Golf Ball

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An air force officer's prepared speech referred today to "the atomic bomb, the size of one golf ball", but he explained later he was talking only about the fissionable core.

Lt. Col. William R. Stark, member of a five-man team from the industrial college of the armed forces, spoke today before industrial leaders attending a course on economic mobilization. A summary of his prepared address, released by marine corps headquarters, phrased it this way:

"Theh atomic bomb, the size of one golf ball, would be the equivalent of 270 10-ton TNT bombs, the damage coming from three sources—blast, flash heat and radioactivity."

But the colonel amplifying to a reporter, explained:

"It's obvious that the atomic bomb is much bigger than that, because it takes a B-29 to carry it. Some of the scientists say that if we could get 100 per cent efficiency (from a fissionable core the size of a golf ball), which we never can, it has that potential power."

Nation's Radar Warning System, 'Almost Blank'

WASHINGTON (AP) — An air force general told Congress today the nation's air warning defense system is so inadequate that "words would be impossible to describe how poor it is. It is almost a blank."

Maj. Gen. Gordon P. Saville, head of the air defense command, urged swift approval of a $161,000,000 plan to throw an effective radar screen around the United States, with outposts at sea and around the world, under the air force.

He testified before the house armed services committee in support of a bill by Rep. Durham (D-N.C.) to authorize the program.

"If radar protection is any good at all, and we think it is, the country should have all the protection it can get," Durham told reporters. "We don't want any domestic Pearl Harbor.

"And this time there will no no question about whose job it is. The legislation would give the job squarely to the air force."

The pending bill would not make any money available. They would only authorize building of the screen if the money for it is voted by Congress later.

Seven To Vie For Queen

Seven candidates apparently will vie for the honor of being named to represent this community in the National Orange show queen contest. The local runoff is to be conducted tomorrow night at the Grove theater.

The complete list of candidates as released by Ben Adams, committee chairman, includes Claudine Woosley, Helen Davis, Barbara Krebill, Dorene Dickey, Gloria Matthews, Frances Younge and Mrs. Alfred B. Keith.

Judging will be conducted tomorrow night at about 8:30 p.m. on the stage of the Grove theater here.

Warns Public On Trash Burning

"We haven't had any fires caused from illegal trash burning lately, and we don't plan to have any."

With that announcement, Fire Chief Al Moyer of Ontario today issued a reminder to citizens on the provisions of the city incinerator ordinance.

All chimney or other openings in fire resistant incinerators must be covered with a screen wire netting, he reminded. Burning hours are for 5 to 10 a.m. Burning at any other hours, or burning without an approved incinerator or container, can be done only on permit.

Violators, he added, will be prosecuted.

Hyland To Talk At 20-30 Club Sports Banquet

The Ontario 20-30 club announced today that Dick Hyland, noted sports columnist on the Los Angeles Times, will be the guest speaker at the eighth annual basketball banquet to be held February 24 at the Orange Hotel.

The dinner is highlighted by the awards given the Chaffey high school and college player selected "Most Valuable" by his team mates.

Army Bares Red Spy Ring

NAMED

Agnes Cmedley, above, is an American author who operated in Shanghai and "is a spy and agent of the Soviet government,' according to sensational story of Russian spy ring revealed in 32,000-word report made to Washington by General Douglas MacArthur on pre-World War II looting of secrets of German embasy in Tokyo.—AP Wirephoto.

'Non-Red' Label Said Begun By Japanese Spies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The army, reporting today on a Soviet spy ring which operated in wartime Japan, said one of the ring's leaders may have started the story that the Chinese Communists "were really not Communists at all".

What's more, the report said, there are "high American officials" who have heard that story repeated so often they find it difficult to believe any other".

The army identified one of the heads of the Soviet ring as Miss Agnes Smedley, an American novelist, who was one of the "early perpetrators, if not the originator, of the hoax that the Chinese Communists were really not Communists at all, but only local agrarian revolutionists innocent of Soviet connections". The report added:

"The harm has been done, but perhaps it could be mitigated if she is now exposed for what she is, a spy and agent of the Soviet government."

U.S. Writer, Others Implicated In Japanese Espionage Activity

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The army warned today that remnants of a fabulous Russian spy ring that operated in Japan with perhaps the greatest daring and success in history may be at work in world capitals "at this very moment."

There is that fleeting hint at a present-day menace in the story of an espionage network so bold it slipped from the Japanese cabinet and German embassy in Tokyo secrets that helped change the course of the war.

And there is another hint in a suggestion that the operator who tapped out coded messages on a secret radio might now be busy in some other country.

Release Report

The army snipped out parts of a 32,000-word report on the ring that Gen. Douglas MacArthur sent over from Tokyo. It gave "security reasons."

Some members of the House un-American activities committee are interested.

The now-it-can-be-told parts of the report unfold an amazing tale centering around:

Intimate Terms

Sorge was on intimate terms with German Ambassador Ott, Ozaki with Japanese Premier Konoe. And from these "perfect," unsuspecting sources they extracted information of "incalculable" value:

A month ahead of time, the ring sounded an alarm that Germany would attack Russia.

It supplied the vital assurance that Japan would not pounce on Russia. So the Soviets felt safe in pulling troops from Siberia and rushing them across a continent to beat back the Nazi onslaught on Moscow.

That assurance was the prime target of the spy ring. And it got it just three days before the Japanese smashed the network in 1941, just before Pearl Harbor.

Sorge and Okazi were hanged.

The report says they were spies in China before shifting to Tokyo. It says Miss Smedley brought them together in Shanghai in 1930.

It says she "is a spy and agent of the Soviet government."

Denies Charge

In New York, Miss Smedley says this is a "despicable lie." She said, "I am not and never have been a Soviet spy or an agent for any country."

She said she would sue General MacArthur if she could find legal grounds for doing so.

Her attorney demanded a retraction and apology in a letter to Secretary of the Army Royall.

While there are no details to build up a spy case now in Washington or other capitals, the MacArthur report says right at the start:

"Probably never in history has there been a ring more bold or more successful. Although most of the principals are dead, some are still at large. They can be expected to be secretly busy with their trade at this very moment in the capitals of the world."

At Large

It says Missouri-born Miss Smedley still is "at large" and so is Guenther Stein, a German. Each has written extensively on China.

Stein, the report says, "is a man about whom too little is known." It lists him as a "top-level member" of the Tokyo ring from 1936 to 1938.

Now living in New York, Stein's only comment was: "Ridiculous." He is not a natural-

Vandenberg To Quit in 1952

DETROIT (AP)—Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) said today he would leave "public life completely" at the end of his present term in 1952.

"At that time I will be 68," he said, "and I will have had 25 years in the United States senate. I think that is enough."

He came to Detroit for a Lincoln Day address.

He was president pro tem of the senate in the 80th Congress and head of the senate foreign relations committee. In that post, Vandenberg became an international figure as a spokesman for his party on foreign affairs.

For many years, and as late as 1948, Vandenberg was regarded in many circles of his party as an eligible candidate for president.

He was an American spokesman in the United Nations, whose charter he helped write. He also joined the conferences of ministers from the Big Four on European peace following World War II.

Mitchum Starts Jail Sentence With a Mop

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Robert Mitchum began his 60-day jail term today on the business end of a mop.

With others in the tenth floor hall of justice jail, Mitchum started swabbing right after breakfast.

"I slept fine," he told a reporter, "although some of the boys are a bit bumptious knocking around their cells of an evening."

Mitchum shares a 6x9 cell with an escape artist. He's officially No. 91234 now, and hopes to get to a county honor farm soon.

His beautiful blond co-defendant, Lila Leeds, who was sentenced to a similar term for conspiring to possess marijuana, said she would spend her spare time writing a book. It will be a biography, she said, and she sketched in the outline—how she came to Hollywood three years ago from Dodge City, Kan., with high hopes of crashing the movies; but first had to take work as a waitress, later became a model, finally got $100 a week contract at M-G-M- and ultimately moved to Warner Bros. at $250 a week.

Miss Leeds, her glamor hidden in a shapeless denim jail dress, said she didn't sleep well. "They brought some screaming characters in here that kept us awake all night," she explained.

WELL DRESSED THIEF

ALHAMBRA (AP) — Michael's men's shop was still in business today, but under difficulties. Sheriff's deputies said a burglar dropped through a skylight and made off with 30 suits, 45 pairs of trousers and an assortment of sport jackets and coats and other apparel.

End Red Tape Hoover Demand

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Hoover commission today asked Congress and President Truman to (1) outlaw political favoritism, (2) rescue the civil service from "red tape without end", and (3) reward officials who cut the federal payroll.

In a new report on government reorganization, the bi-partisan commission called for these reforms by the nation's biggest employer. It said they would bring "great savings".

Attractive Career

Shape a career service that will attract and hold "men and women of the highest intelligence" by opening new training and promotion opportunities.

Raise pay in the $5000-and-up brackets and lift the $10,330 salary ceiling to a point closer to private-industry levels.

Require the removal of officers who show "political favoritism in making appointments".

Strip the civil service commission of its worker-recruiting and some other functions. Hand the hiring job over to the individual agencies under modernized procedures.

Fix a single pay policy for all agencies, instead of the four now existing. Let Congress set the wage ceiling and floor, and let the civil service commission set individual scales.

TILDEN GETS YEAR

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Big Bill Tilden, ex-tennis champion of the world, was sentenced to a year in jail today—his 56th birthday.

Superior Judge A. A. Scott found him guilty of violating his probation on a conviction of contributing to the delinquency of a 14-year-old Beverly Hills, Calif., youth.

'Dimes' Drive Deadline Near

The annual March of Dimes drive in Upland and Ontario will close Saturday. The drive this year is being conducted by the Business and Professional Women's clubs.

The Ontario club has sent out 250 letters to organizations and business men and the response has been very good, however the returns have not been counted up to the present time.

The amount of money obtained last year in San Bernardino county was as follows: the county took in $13,279.06; cashed bonds to total of $15,272.55 and applied to the foundation for $11,917.31. The cost for the year was $41,245.56.

Expenditures included $709.92 for hospital equipment; $210 for nurses training; and $4,576.14 for office help and other items.

Following is the breakdown of polio cases and deaths in San Bernardino county in 1948:

San Bernardino, 14 cases, 2 deaths; Ontario, 9 cases; Redlands, 11 cases; Colton, 4; San Bernardino, unincorporated area, 32 cases, 3 deaths; Victorville, 6; Cucamonga, 1 case, 1 death; Chino, 4 cases, 2 deaths; Barstow, 5; Rialto, 1; Needles, 1; non-resident, 1. This made a total of 89 cases and 8 deaths.

Ontario contributions should be sent to Faye Spencer, 431 Granada court, Ontario, or to Postmaster Hase in Ontario. Upland contribution in Upland may be sent to Orton P. Brady, postmaster.

Eccles Denies Bias Claim

WASHINGTON (AP)—Marriner S. Eccles of the federal reserve board testified today that a company in which he has a substantial interest has taken part in millions of dollars of government construction work.

But Eccles said this firm, the Utah Construction Co., did not solicit government contracts. In most cases it was "invited" by government agencies or other construction companies, Eccles said. He is a director of the firm.

The former reserve board chairman's testimony was given under cross examination in the board's anti-trust trial of Transamerica Corp. Transamerica contends Eccles stirred up the case because of "prejudice" against it.

Eccles has denied being prejudiced, and said he will not take part in the decision eventually made by the other six board members.

Players Pick New Officers

New officers have been elected for the coming term by the Upland Community Players.

The new officers are: President, Mrs. Esther Phippin; Vice-President, Mrs. Edith Childers; Secretary-Treasurer, Ralph Wooding.

A play-selection committee met immediately after the regular meeting to discuss future plans of the club. At this meeting it was tentatively planned to schedule the club's next main production for some time in May. Immediate plans are to work on two one-act plays which can be given in service hospitals or clubs.

May Alter Salary Plan

Some final adjustments may be made in the proposed Upland teachers salary schedule before it is presented to the district school board, John Strom, Upland teachers club president, said today.

The changes, if made, will be the result of legislation now pending in Sacramento, plus a survey of local living costs.

Mr. Strom explained that the state appropriation of schools is to be made at this term of the legislature, which reconvenes shortly.

A club meeting is slated to be held later this month to consider changes, he added.

The board of education is scheduled to receive the club's recommendations at their March meeting.

President Says Quantity of Bombs Is Secret

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The number of atomic bombs the United States has should be kept secret, President Truman said today.

A reporter told the President at his news conference that Chairman Lilienthal of the Atomic energy commission had suggested that this country should tell the world how many atomic bombs it has.

Name Cast For Annual Senior Play at Chaffey High School

The cast of the high school senior play, "Professor, How Could You?" to be presented on Friday night, February 18, in Gardiner W. Spring auditorium on the Chaffey campus, was announced today.

Reserved seats, general admission and student tickets, at 96, 60 and 30 cents, are on sale at the high school bookstore.

Packed with hilarious romantic situations, "Professor, How Could You?" will feature an outstanding cast and bold innovations in set design.

It will be the first major dramatic production of the school year.

Clever Comedy

Miss Gretchen Lizer, high school dramatics coach, whose productions have brought wide acclaim to the school, has said of the play: "Seldom do we find a comedy written as cleverly as this one. From the first try-outs, over a month ago, the Professor has kept us laughing."

The three-act farce is the story of woman-hating Professor Perry, a young, earnest and otherwise sensible character who is offered an important promotion, provided he can find a wife.

"No wife," he is told, "no promotion."

Important Roles

Seniors like the play because there are several parts of equal importance, spreading the opportunities for outstanding comedy performances. Chosen after many tryouts, the cast of "Professor, How Could You" is as follows:

Make-up — Geraldine McCrea, Patty Vogan, Bonnie D'Dell, Muriel Arbuckle, Joyce Tortel, Suzanna Hutchinson.

Properties — Jo Ann Thomas, Donna Rowe, Melvina Tull, Lillian Baeskins, Virginia DuChene, Shirley Roden.

State crew will be directed by Joe Shanklin and music will feature the Chaffey theatre orchestra conducted by Shirley Snider.

Truman Calls Mindszenty Trial 'Infamous Act'

He described the treason trial of the Cardinal as a Kangaroo court proceeding which will go down in history as a blot against the nation which carried it on.

Mr. Truman said the matter of whether it was in violation of Hungary's treaties is being investigated and a report is to be made to him on that point.

Court Explained

In American slang, a Kangaroo court is an irresponsible, unauthorized tribunal in which principles of law and justice are perverted.

Mr. Truman said Secretary of State Acheson's condemnation of the trial as "wanton" Communist religious persecution had his entire approval.

He discussed the trial at his news conference and gave reporters permission to quote directly his use of the word "infamous."

A reporter asked whether a break in relations with Hungary is under study. The President made it clear he didn't say that.

What is under investigation, he said, is whether Hungary's action was contrary to its obligations in treaties with other governments.

New Clash

American officials see the whole affair as one which will bring a new clash between Russia and the western powers.

In London a government official said Britain plans a protest to Hungary over the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty. He would not say on what grounds.

Authorities predicted the clash will come when the United States

Truman Still Favors Upped Taxes, Price Controls

Renews Plea To Congress for Appropriation

WASHINGTON, (AP) — President Truman said today he is still as strong as ever for a $4,000,000,000 tax increase and for standby wage and price controls.

The President's call for more money was made at his news conference just after Secretary of the Treasury Snyder had told Congress it is "essential" that the increase be granted "as soon as possible."

At the White House the questioning on taxes revolved around a reporter's query whether the President is hopeful of getting the tax increase in view of recent developments in the commodity markets and on Capitol hill.

Just As Strong

The President said yes, he is. Then he is just as strong for the tax increase now as when he first called for it.

Then, asked whether a further downward trend in the market might lead him to alter his opinion, he said it would not.

It would be just as advisable to raise taxes in that case, he said. Because further economic development would not affect the expenses of the government and he is trying to avoid a deficit.

Snyder's plea was made before the senate-house committee on the economic report.

Democratic congressional leaders had indicated a wish to put off action on taxes for at least several months. Senator George (D-Ga.), top tax man in the senate, came out today for a 5 per cent slash in all federal expenditures "which can be cut" in the hope of heading off any rise in levies.

Defense Budget

But Snyder pointed to President Truman's estimates of budget deficits of $600,000,000 and the $4,000,000,000 for the fiscal years ending July 30, 1949, and 1950. He added:

"The objective of the administration is to increase revenues by $4,000,000,000, and the need for the additional revenues for the federal government is imperative.

"We must have a surplus during times of prosperity with which to reduce the debt, for if we do not we shall never be able to reduce the debt in the manner which I feel is necessary and desirable."

Snyder said the deficit might turn out even greater than the President's estimates.

ized American.

The only other living person described as one of the higher-ups in the ring is Max Klausen, radio expert. The report leaves open the possibility that he is in Russia or in "some other country" where "his skill and experience in secret telegraphy will be useful to the Soviets."

So the army leaves unanswered the question of what ringleaders may be working today in what world capitals.

But the un-American activities committee expects to toss questions about that at army and navy intelligence chiefs. They have been asked to sit in on a committee meeting tomorrow.

Committee members are interested, too, in any more information the army might have about Miss Smedley.

When the Rhode Island university basketball team dropped a 58-48 decision to Connecticut it was only the third time in six years the Rams have failed to score more than 48 points.

Eventual Murder Of Mindszenty Is Predicted

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP) — The eventual "murder" of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Catholic primate of Hungary, was forecast today by Metropolitan Theophilus, spiritual leader of the Russian orthodox church in America.

Theophilus, who heads 1,000,000 communicants, said Soviet leaders seek to destry all religions.

"Unless Cardinal Mindszenty can escape," Theophilus said, "It is my belief he will be murdered. One of these days the world will hear that Cardinal Mindszenty has died of pneumonia or a heart attack."

Wants NLRB Head Fired

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate's labor bill hearings were thrown into an uproar today by a demand from Senator Neely (D-W. Va.) that Robert N. Denham be fired as general counsel of the national labor relations board.

Neely called Denham "biased and prejudiced".

His accusation came after Woodruff Randolph, president of the International Typographical Union (AFL), told the committee that Denham made statements in 1947 which "indicated to me that government agencies were hostile to us".

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) protested Neely's statement and demanded that the West Virginian withdraw it.

Neely heatedly and bluntly refused, they shouted:

"I reiterate it.

"I think he (Denham) is the most biased and prejudiced man I have ever heard testify.

"His conduct here as a witness was such as to impel every labor union in the United States to call for his removal.

"He has shown such bitter prejudice he has no business being on the payroll of any government agency involved in labor management relations."

Denham was a witness before the committee earlier this week. As NLRB counsel, he is the government's chief prosecutor under the Taft-Hartley act.

Merle Oberon Gets Divorce

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Film star Merle Oberon was granted a divorce in Juarez civil court today from Lucien K. Ballard, Hollywood cameraman.

Judge Jesus Barba Cornejo issued the decree 30 minutes after the filing of Miss Oberon's petition, witch cited incompatibility. Ballard's written consent was filed with the petition, permitting prompt action. He did not appear.

The actress smiled as she renewed acquaintance with Juarez court clerks. She last appeared here in 1945 to divorce Sir Alexander Korda in the same court, and was married to Ballard shortly afterwards in a Juarez proxy ceremony.

Accused Torso Slayer Enters Innocent Plea

SACRAMENTO, (AP) — Victor Corrales, 48, accused of the torso slaying of two women whose bodies were found in rivers near here today pleaded innocent and not guilty by reason of insanity.

Joblessness in State Increasing

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The number of persons seeking unemployment insurance in California last week was greater by 127,899 than in the corresponding week a year ago.

Employment department director James G. Bryant, said the number of jobless benefit applicants is on the upswing because of:

(1) Natural seasonal unemployment.

(2) Influx of job seekers from other states.

(3) The recent cold spell.

Bryant said the total number of applicants for the week ending Feb. 3 was 383-348, as compared with 361,502 the week before, and 313,600 four weeks ago.

There has been "a general tightening up in the labor market," Bryant said.

But the unemployment trend is more marked in California, he explained, because persons hunting jobs are flocking in greater numbers to California than to other states.

Also, he said, recent heavy snows have kept certain groups —such as lumber and farm workers—from being able to work.

Only one region in the state, Bryant said, showed less unemployed last week than a year ago. That was the north coast area, with 1735 fewer jobless than 12 months ago.

Truman Calls Trial 'Infamous Act'

and other western nations try to call Hungary to account for its actions against the Cardinal. Whether the scene is the United Nations or otherwise, they expect Russia will immediately spring to the defense of its satellite state.

Such a course has been foreshadoded by the consistent support given the Hungarian regime by the radio and other propaganda agencies of Moscow.

Not Isolated

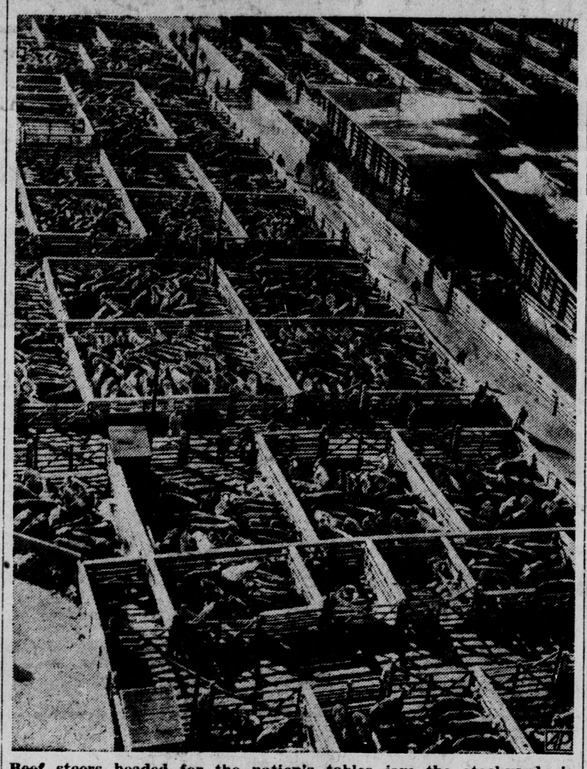

Furthermore, authorities here assert tnat the Cardinal's conviction and life sentence, while highly dramatic because of his position as Roman Catholic primate of Hungary, is by no means to be treated as an isolated instance. They regard it ratner as the latest outstanding example of a wave of opression which has been sweeping over the Russian border countries in Europe for more that two years.

The house late yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution urging that the U. S. protest Hungary's treatment of Mindszenty, either through the United Nations or other "appropriate" means.

Secretary of State Acheson directly linked Russia with the Mindszenty case in a statement in which he laid the basis for action against Hungary. Later, in response to news conference questions, he said that an appeal to the U. N. is under consideration.

Beef steers headed for the nation's tables jam the stockyards in Kansas City in a rush to market far beyond the normal seasonal numbers. Stockmen, uneasy over declining beef prices, reported that in some extreme cases losses ranged as high as $160 and $170 a head on feeder cattle coming into the market. Receipts—estimated at 19,000 head—included 300 carloads of grainfed steers, the largest supply received at Kansas City in a February in the memory of stockyards officials.—AP Wirephoto.

L A Youth Tells Of Kidnapping

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 21-year-old GI art student, Walter B. Mansfield, Jr., of West Los Angeles, told police today he had been kidnaped and held captive for 19 hours, during which time he was forced by a man in marine uniform to drive to San Diego and back.

Mansfield said the man got into his car, produced a revolver and said: "Head south. Keep your mouth shut. Do as you're told and nothing will happen to you."

Mansfield said that on the outskirts of San Diego his captor taped his hands behind him, placed him in the back seat and threw a blanket over him.

Not until they returned to Los Angeles today did the man free him, Mansfield said.

The juror, Mrs. Beatrice Burge of San Bernardino, told Superior Judge Archie Mitchell she discussed the case with Mrs. Shirley Kater, Solloway's sister.

Push Plans For Conference

SACRAMENTO, (AP) — Plans were pushed today for the March 3 and 4 mental hygiene conference Governor Warren has called for Sacramento.

The governor announced he has invited 48 civic leaders to meet in San Francisco and Los Angeles to help state officials shape the agenda. The dates have not been set for the committee sessions.

In issuing the invitations to meet with the directors of mental hygiene, public health, education, corrections and youth authority Governor Warren wrote:

"The purpose of the conference will be to consider the future of our mental hospitals in a broad program for the prevention and treatment of mental disease in California."

Use of 'FIDO' Is Explained

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Fido—a sort of watchdog that bites and chases off fog—is now unleashed at the Los Angeles airport, the first such installation in a civilian airport.

Fido gets its name from its British catalogue item "fog, intensive, dispersal of."

Fido is, in effect, a gigantic kitchen range, the burning open jets of which make enough heat to drive off fog to permit safe landing of airplanes.

ROBERTO SILVA

Roberto Silva, one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jaun Silva, 43 Humboldt street, Cucamonga, passed away at home yesterday after an illness of one week.

Council Acts On Driver Plan

Motor vehicles with dual-drive controls and qualified instructors would be provided Chaffey high school students if the Cucamonga district safety council request is granted, it was revealed today following their meeting this week.

The council asked the Chaffey board of education to provide students with practical behind-wheel driving instruction. The provision is contained in a recently enacted law making classroom driving courses mandatory in California high schools.

However, school authorities pointed out that it would be impossible to carry out the program, due to the difficulties of procuring vehicles and instructors.

If pressed hard enough by parents and safety organizations, the board of education would find the means to carry out the program, the council decided. The Cucamonga council action follows similar action taken in Upland last week by the safety council here.

Upland and Ontario safety councils will be asked to cooperate in a campaign to obtain the driving instruction for students.

Continuing the council's drive to have a road put through from Highway 66 north to San Bernardino road, the council asked the county highway department to determine the exact boundaries of a 40-foot right-of-way for the road.

J. Nunez appeared before the council to protest that the road would trim his lot, located west of the proposed road on San Bernardino road, and would probably necessitate the moving back of two houses on the property.

The close proximinity of a Cucamonga Water Co. reservoir to the east of the proposed road at San Bernardino road makes necessary a survey, the council decided.

A total of 400 signatures on petitions requesting traffic actuated signals at Archibald avenue and Highway 66 were obtained and will be forwarded to highway department officials, it was decided.

Uncle Sam Says

Some of my nephews and nieces want to save regularly and actually do it. Others mean to save but don't always get around to it. These latter are the ones who only think about a budget. The best way to save is to do it on a regular basis, every payday. And the best investment is U. S. Savings Bonds.

If you're on a payroll, enroll for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or, if self-employed, sign up for the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank. Either way, you're building future security in the soundest way possible. And your money increases four dollars for three in 10 years time.

Reappointed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Two members of the board of directors of the 28th agricultural district association in San Bernardino county were reappointed today by Governor Warren.

They are George Tedford, Victorville, and Roger J. Hartwick, Barstow. Both will serve for terms ending Jan. 15, 1953.

State Still Lacks Rain

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California still doesn't have enough rain.

And high snowpacks in the mountains have subnormal water content, the state public works department noted today.

The season's precipitation is from 10 to 70 per cent of normal —except in the Yreka and San Diego areas in extreme ends of the state.

The information was published in a snow survey bulletin compiled under the direction of Fred Paget, senior hydraulic engineer.

Precipitation deficiencies are the greatest in the north — with the Sacramento and Pit river watershed 65 per cent of normal. The Yuba river watershed is 70 per cent of normal and the Feather river area 60 per cent.

The water situation for all other watersheds south along the Sierra are 75 per cent of normal.

In the Kern river watershed the snowpack appears to be about 90 per cent of normal.

"Since these snow surveys were made several February storms have occurred which have brought added precipitation, especially to thee central portion of the state," the bulletin reads.

Of the heavy snow in the Sierra "Although the snow depth on Donner Summit on Feb. 8 was 133 inches, as against a normal depth of 98 inches, the continued cold weather of the past month has prevented the snow from packing or settling and the light powder snow, although piled in great depths, did not contain much water."

The 1925-26 University of Kentucky basketball team won 13 games and lost only one; the 1926-27 aggregation lost 13 and won but two contests.

SHOULD NAMES BE PRINTED?

Should the names of juveniles involved in serious crimes be published?

Deferring to a custom of long standing, this newspaper, in common with most others, has made it a practice not to print the names of wrongdoers under the age of 18 years.

Whether this policy is justified, in light of the widespread and smoothly operating juvenile theft rings uncovered by Ontario police recently, is questionable.

For this reason, the News-Herald is soliciting opinions of its readers on the question of whether or not to publish names.

The criminal activities admitted by the youths were on such a scale as to constitute a criminal "ring" in the real sense of that word.

Several cogent points seem to argue for the publishing of these names.

1. The public has a right to know who the perpetrators of such far-flung operations are.

2. Any argument that the family names may be besmirched seems pointless. Something is seriously wrong in the homes where these children were reared. A lack of parental authority and guidance is cryingly evident.

3. For the protection of other children and their parents, the names should be made known. A parent surely has the right to knowledge, through the public prints, of undesirables with which his own children may be associating at school or at play.

4. Naming names in our newspapers—and the sure knowledge that names will be made public if such offenses occur in the future—could be a real deterrent to other juvenile crime.

We do not speak here of minor, petty offenses where it is evident that the offender is not likely to transgress again. Surely, in these instances, withholding of names does a real good.

But the offenders apprehended early this week were not guilty of minor or petty acts.

The News-Herald will welcome expressions from its readers as a guide to policy in future cases of this kind.

Rassling Has Become Great Native Art Form

By Robert Ruark

NEW YORK—When that new and awkward monster, television, is called to account for its sins, it will have to answer one hard question: Did you or did you not revive professional rassling? And television will have to hang its head and say yes, I'm afeared so.

A great native art comes once again into its own, to reap its just reward, and that double-barreled cliche slid in real easy. Already, I have drifted back to the tender green years of sports-writing, when metropolitan newspapers actually assigned reporters to cover the muscular excesses of flabby giants who grew scabrous beards and whetted their teeth nightly for peon's pay. Some of my best friends were rasslers. They were the only people I knew as poor and overworked as I.

Neither Now

The rasslers today are neither science, sport nor skill. They are a pure artform, and a very sensitive artform, at that. They are a smudgy compromise between ballet and bullfighting, with the happy exception that in a rassle contest nobody ever gets hurt on purpose, which is more than you can say of ballet.

My old friend, Mr. Toots Mondt, a lump-eared impresario of the arts, even tells me that the monopolistic control over the burpers has been bust, so that today rassling is regarded as free enterprise, unhampered by the closed shop.

The rasslers hit their golden age a score of years ago, when Jeemy London flexed his shimmering biceps for great sums. The business then wilted under a vast overload of freaks—angels of all nationalities, spurious Hindus, lower slobbovian monsters, lady rasslers, and rasslers who struggled in mud, herring-sauce, icecream, raspberries, snow and smelt. An occasional motheaten bear long ripe for the rug, once again became popular as an antidote to the thyroidal proteges of Monsieur Jacques Prefer. M. Prefer I knew well. He was a stringy little man who called himself the Halitosis Kid, and was boastful of his effluvium of garlic. He now operates out of Los Angeles, which serves both man and city right.

Came Television

As I say, the rasslers died. Mr. Mondt, who presently serves as the booking agent for Primo Carnera and a herd of less talented behemoths, told me he once ran a survey on rassling, and less than one-half of one per cent of the population had observed a deathless duel of the grunters. Then came television to rectify the oversight.

The merest child today is familiar with the facial distortions of the gladiators. Young mothers observe the perspiration of Gorgeous George and Signor Carnera as they knit. Result: Fifteen million paid admissions this year and the resuscitation of wrestling in Madison Square Garden as a major attraction.

Mr. Carnera is so in demand as a striver that he practically commutes to Latin America, where they love him as a son. An average week in the U. S. of A. will fetch him five grand, before taxes, manager's fees and expenses. This is a brassie shot better than the actual poverty Primo experienced under the fleet of hoodlums who steered him as a fist-fighter. They cut him up so thoroughly that at final accounting Primo often owed his consultants money.

Mr. Gorgeous George, who got hot out on the west coast, now is hot all over. He is hotter fiscally than old Jeem Londos.

What I wish is that Joe Turner, of Washington, D. C., was still around to enjoy the new boom in grunt. Joe was a rassler's rassler, over-gaudy hippodrome hurt him to the heart, and when, to reinvigorate the box office, he occasionally had to break out the mothbit bear, his soul shrank. Joe died before television brought the game into the home, and he wasn't rich. It was almost like dying on the lip of a goldmine, while waiting for belated delivery of a 3-dollar pick.

Vote Today on Merger Of Ulster and Eire

By Dewitt MacKenzie

It was back about 1930 that I stood in the private office of Prime Minister Lord Craigavon of Northern Ireland (Ulster) and heard him issue this defiance to the "Irish Free State" (now Erie) "Union with Southern Ireland? Never! Never! Never!! And when I am gone, there will be other leaders of the same mind to carry on."

Craigavon, a huge man who towered well above six feet, was leaning against the marble mantle over the fireplace as we talked about the bitter and often bloody strife between the two sections of the Emerald Isle. He became so wrought up as he bellowed this edict that he repeatedly slammed a fist as big as a ham into the palm of his other hand by way of emphasis.

Never! Never!

That "Never! Never! Never!" comes echoing down to me today. For Northern Ireland is holding a general election in which the greatest issue is the question of whether she should unite with Eire or remain a part of the United Kingdom under the King.

Lord Craigavon is dead, but he predicted truly when he said other leaders would carry on the policy of separation. It would be an astonishing thing if "Ulster" voted at long last to join fortunes with her sister state to the south. This is particularly true in vie wof Eire's recent action in severing the last tie which bound her to England.

Want Merger

Eire, of course, long has been eager, for a merger. As a matter of fact Former Prime Minister Eamonn De Valera of Eire recently toured England in support of a united Ireland. Moreover, the leaders of all political parties in Eire sponsored the raising of money to assist Northern Irish candidates favoring union. Naturally that hasn't improved the temper of Northern Ireland folks who oppose union.

The fight between Northern and Southern Ireland runs back for generations. Its basis is mainly religious, racial and economic. Unhappily religion is a potent factor in the minds of many. A majority of the populace of Northern Ireland is Protestant and most of the folks of Eire are Catholics.

Economic Issues

However, the economic issue also looms large. Ulster long has been one of the richest parts of the Emerald Isle because of its success in agriculture, linen manufacture and shipbuilding. Many Ulsterites feel that union with the south would mean they would have to carry excessive taxation, since numerous parts of Eire are not so prosperous.

Then, of course, the six counties of Ulster were settled largely by Scots and English. Folks of Eire who trace their lineage back to the days of the Irish kings don't look upon these later arrivals as "belonging" to the land of the shamrock.

The smart man knows that the only way to protect his family and himself is with a safe, systematic plan of saving. U. S. Savings Bonds provide the safety and the Payroll Savings Plan or the Bond-a-Month Plan is the systematic way. No one can provide security for the future by free-spending. You can face the future with confidence, however, by investing a part of today's earnings in Savings Bonds. That is the intelligent way. And you have the choice of two convenient plans of purchase, the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or, if self-employed, the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank.

Baseball to Fight Suit Aimed at Reserve Clause

NEW YORK, (AP)—Organized baseball shook off its historical shyness toward legal action today and prepared to fight the latest attack against its contracts all the way to the supreme court.

The legal structure is challenged in a $300,000 damage suit by Danny Gardella a pint-sized outfielder now banned from baseball because he jumped from the New York Giants to the Mexican league in 1946.

A U. S. Court of Appeals ruled yesterday that the suit may be heard. Commissioner A. B. Chandler, one of the five defendants, said baseball attorneys are ready to go to the Supreme court if necessary.

Next Move

The next move is up to the defendants, who besides Chandler are the Giants, President Ford Frick of the National league, President Will Harridge of the American league, and President George Trautman of the National Association (minors).

They have 20 days to answer yesterday's ruling. The case had been dismissed last July 14 by Federal District Judge Henry W. Goddard. The court split 2-1 in reversing Judge Goddard.

Gardella, known more for his off-the-field antics such as hanging from a 12th floor window by his fingertips than for his baseball prowess, is under a five-year suspension from organized baseball.

Charge Monopoly

In his suit he charged baseball with being a monopoly because of the reserve clause in every contract which binds a player to one club for life unless he is sold, traded or released. He also charged that baseball should be subject to anti-trust laws because of the large fees received by clubs for radio and television rights.

Gardella figures the ban will cost him $100,000. He asked triple damages under anti-trust provisions.

The appeal judges wrote three separate opinions. Only the one by Judge Jerome N. Frank touched directly upon the reserve clause.

He said it "results in something resembling peonage of the baseball player. . . . The violator may perhaps become a judge, with a less exciting and often less remunerative occupation, or a bartender or a street sweeper, but his chances of ever playing baseball again are exceedingly slim.

Quasi-Peons

"I might add that, if players are regarded as quasi-peons, it is of no moment that they are well paid; only the totalitarian-minded will believe that higher pay excuses virtual slavery."

In Wilmington, Del., last night, where he was making a dinner address, Commissioner Chandler declared:

"No major leaguer makes less than $5000 a year and some make up to $100,000. If you call that peonage then a lot of us would like to be in it."

Chandler made no direct mention of the court's decision.

The reserve clause is regarded as the foundation of baseball contracts. Without it players would be free to bargain with any club of their choice at the end of each season. Wealthy teams could outbid the poorer ones for the best available talent. Conceivably one club could wind up with such stars as Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio, Stan Musial, Bobby Feller and Ewell Blackwell.

City Softball Plans Laid

As the result of a meeting of managers Tuesday night, it appears probable that the Upland summer softball season will include two six-team leagues.

That was announced today by Recreation Director Lew Fuller. Following the Tuesday meeting, attended by some 15 managers and team representatives, eight clubs definitely announced plans to enter the circuit, Fuller said.

The eight—seven of which were members last year—are the Pirates, Dukes, Fleetmasters, Shady Grove, Cycle and Sport, Etiwanda, Cucamonga and the Upland jewelers. All but the last named were circuit members a season ago.

I two leagues are operated, the stronger teams will presumably be grouped in the 'A' division with the weaker competing in the 'B' circuit.

Several rule changes, including the substitution of the 13-inch ball in place of the 12-inch pellet in use previously, were discussed.

The larger apple is designed to make softball less of a pitchers game and to increase spectator interest with more hits and runs.

$100,000 FEE FOR WILLIAMS SEEN IN '49

Boston, (AP) — Now that all of his co-magnates have played their highest baseball salary cards, it can be taken for granted that Red Sox Owner Tom Yawkey will trump them by giving Ted Williams around $100,000 for 1949.

From his usual winter fishing haunts in the Florida everglades, Williams has let it become known that he is about to sign for a "slight increase."

Ted boasts that he never has had any financial disputes with Yawkey and he collected about $80,000 last season. It seems safe to predict his new terms will be higher than the $90,000 Dan Topping granted Yankee Joe DiMaggio and the reported $75,000 Bill Veeck promised Cleveland hero Lou Boudreau.

Boxing Pilots Hit Proposal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Boxing managers of California are up in arms against an innocent appearing proposed bill which has been circulated among them for approval. If it is submitted to the legislature and passed it would amend the state athletic commission rules.

Joe Herman of San Francisco, president of the California Boxing Managers' association, says the proposed bill would deprive the managers as well as promoters of their rights to bargain for television deals.

"It would place the authority for such bargaining with the state athletic commission," he said. "This proposed bill has been studied carefully by our members and legal representative. If passed, it is our opinion it would take away all our rights concerning television broadcasts.

"The boxing managers recognize the future importance of television. All are agreed on its influence to come in our sport. But we feel we should have something to say in the letting of contracts. After all, we furnish the basic product—the fighters themselves.

"This proposed bill carries the appeal that a certain percentage of the amount for which the television contract has been let for each boxing show will be set aside for war veterans rehabilitation, such as the veterans home, which now benefits through boxing.

"The California Boxing Managers' association is fully in accord with the veterans receiving a percentage of all monies received through the sale of the television rights.

"But the managers are opposed to having television bargaining rights taken from them and placed in the hands of the commission."

Herman said his organization as well as the Southern California Boxing Managers association, already had mapped plans to fight the proposed bill if it finds its way to the floor of the legislature.

"We are circulating petitions in the state now," he said.

Yellowjackets Play Tigers Here Tomorrow

Colton's off-and-on Yellowjackets visit the Chaffey gym tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m. for a CBL conference contest.

Although the Cement City team extended Chaffey to the limit before losing, 36-33, earlier in the season, they will be playing this time without the services of star forward Tommy Williams.

Williams, who was engaged in a nip and tuck battle with Robbie Davis for league scoring honors, wrenched a knee and is apparently out for the year.

Colton showed how much he's missed Tuesday night when they bowed to Redlands — previously winless—for their fourth loss of the season. They have won three.

Coach Harvey Shirk's Panthers have no conference chores to perform this weekend but will play out of the league Saturday night against the UCLA frosh at Westwood.

Rowland Thumbs Twinks' Plan For Intermission

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — President Clarence Rowland of the Pacific coast baseball league ha thumbed out the Hollywood club's idea of a 10-minute intermission.

The Stars planned to initiate the unprecedented rest period between the fifth and sixth innings of regular nine inning games.

But Rowland, while complimenting their progressiveness, concluded there is no rule in baseball which provides for such an intermission. Until such a rule has been passed upon by the powers of the game—no intermission.

Wants to Be Saved from Ducks

WASHINGTON, (AP) — A baffled Montana farmer lifted a desperate cry today for the government to save him from the ducks.

Nearly beaten in the game of matching his wits against the appetites of 5,000 wildfowl, Ervin Weinheimer of Lewiston, wrote Senator Ecton (R-Mont.) asking for a "fair chance and an equal opportunity for the farmer."

"It doesn't seem to me that it is the 'American way' for the government to protect the ducks and in turn not to protect the farmer from them," he said. Maybe the government should feed the ducks, he suggested.

Here is a nibble-by-nibble account of the happenings around the Warm Springs Creek, Mont., countryside, as told by Weinheimer:

To begin with, he was hailed out last summer. But having 50 head of cows to feed through the winter, he cut 35 acres of hail-damaged barley and some wheat and stacked it for use as hay.

All winter there were 500 ducks around Weinheimer's place. That is, until two weeks ago. Then, about 5,000 of their hungry relatives moved in and cast their eyes on Weinheimer's haystacks.

"So they started tearing into the stacks," the farmer explained briefly and bitterly.

"You would think that ducks couldn't hurt a stack very much," he wrote Ecton. "I didn't either —but after the first day they had dug into the stacks about three or four feet at the base."

Scare them away? They wouldn't scare.

Whatever Weinheimer tried—and he tried about everything—was a disappointment, and the ducks went right on feeding on his haystacks.

He said the federal game agent advised him that he could try scaring the ducks with blank shotgun shells, but warned him not to kill any, or he might be haled into court.

The ducks didn't budge.

All he asks, Weinheimer said, is legislation "to give fair treatment to both the farmer and the ducks."

Youth Will Face Trial

SAN DIEGO, (AP) — Donald Jack Ross, 16 of Los Angeles, today was termed by Superior Judge Robert Burch as an "unfit subject" to be handled in juvenile court.

Ross, who was charged with robbery and attempted murder in connection with the near-fatal shooting of police motorcycle officer J. Robert O'Connor Feb. 2, was ordered to stand trial in adult court.

He was arraigned in municipal court, bail was fixed at $25,000 and preliminary hearing was set for Feb. 16. His co-defendant will be George Oliver Frazier, 21, of Long Beach, who police say confessed the actual shooting of O'Connor.

Wounds Prove Fatal To Victim Of Wild Shooting

DALLAS (AP) — Theodore Thornton, 44, died today of wounds received yesterday when a berserk gunman rained bullets from a Y.M.C.A. window on a downtown Dallas street.

Charles A. Gordon, 28-year-old navy veteran, was held by police, who said he told them he was "shooting at Communists".

Thornton was the only one of four persons caught in the hail of bullets who was seriously injured.

Murder charges were filed against Gordon in the death of Thornton by City Detective E. R. Beck.

Gandhi Killers Are Sentenced

NEW DELHI, (AP) — Narayan Godse and Narayan Apte, editor and publisher of a small poona newspaper, today were sentenced to die on the gallows for the assassination of Mohandas K. Gandhi.

Five of the eight defendants were given life sentences. The aged politician, V. D. Savarkar, who had been described by the prosecution as the brains of the plot against Gandhi's life, was acquitted.

D. R. Badge, a ninth man arrested, turned state's evidence and was released.

The defendants came into the crowded courtroom laughing and joking. When led from the room after the sentences were pronounced they began shouting, with Godse's voice sounding above the others, "we will conquer Pakistan. Long live Hindustan." Then they broke into loud laughter.

"Aunt Emily, did you or Aunt Mabel ever meet Lincoln personally?"

MISS MEXICO SAYS SHE'S NOT ANGRY

SAN PEDRO, (AP) — "Miss Mexico" headed home today, her ruffled feathers all smoothed.

There was no one to greet Hortenca Constandse when the yacht Corsair brought her to Southern California Monday, winner of a trip sponsored by the Mexico City paper Novidades.

But the Mexican consul and the movies rallied round; June Haver and Mark Stevens entertained her at 20th-Century Fox; and as she went aboard today for the homeward trip, she said in her best Spanish:

"Am I miffed at not being met? Of course not. I had the most wonderful time. Everyone has been so gracious."

Michigan State College has had 10 national wrestling champions since 1941.

Hungary Ousts U.S. Official

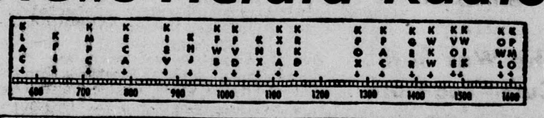

BUDAPEST, Hungary, (AP) — The government announced today it has expelled Robin Steussy, vice consul and third secretary of the United States legation, whom it charged with spying and smuggling men out of Hungary.

The announcement made a similar charge against Stephen A. Koczak, an American legation attache, who was expelled before the trial of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty and left the country a week ago.

"They smuggled men, using cars and having bribed Dr. Tibor Gal, an officer of the customs," the statement said. ". . . they smuggled out Istvan Barankovics and others."

BAR CHILDREN

SAN DIEGO, (AP) — The San Diego Episcopal clericus has adopted a resolution advocating legislation to bar child preachers from performing marriage ceremonies.

END OF THE LOGGING TRAIL— Thousands of logs rest on the ice at Stevens, Ontario, awaiting the Spring thaws that will float them downstream 100 miles to the paper mill at Marathon, Ontario. World demands for paper led Canadian lumberjacks to an all-time record for Winter logging operations through the use of mechanical devices.

She Was Sure Cute--Too Cute

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The honey-haired blond with horn-rimmed glasses was a cute little trick, Manager Jacob Glickman noted as she walked into his liquor store and asked for cigarets.

But she was all business a moment later as she produced a gun, ordered: "This is a stickup. Lie on the floor. I mean it."

She escaped with $50. Glickman estimated her age at 18.

Lady Cop Proved Too Much for Toothpick Charley

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Toothpick Charlie", once one of the country's best second story men, is in crook's purgatory today.

For the first time in his 50 years of brushing with the law, he was pinched by a woman cop and for stealing nickels from a telephone coin box.

Legally known as James J. Fitzpatrick, Charlie is now 85. His nickname comes from the toothpick always in his mouth.

Too Bad, They Wanted New Home

NEWPORT BEACH (AP)—Police have been hoping for a new station since two grand juries labeled it unsanitary and a fire hazard.

But dutifully, last night, when a fire broke out they called the firemen. The latter promptly extinguished the blaze in the radio room, and the cops will have to do without a new home awhile longer.

Junior Police Plan Boys' Town Hall

"Ontario's Junior Police organization is prepared to start an intensive drive among the youth of our city to provide healthful activities and thus eliminate the influence of the current crime wave among juveniles," said Officer Tom Mooney, head of the juvenile division, police department, Wednesday, in a talk to Ontario American Legion Post.

The Junior Police are composed of teen age boys who conduct sports, civic and social activity. "Live and study and work for the American way of life" is their watchword.

It is because of their activities that many boys have been weaned from crime influences, and many of them are now on the road to being good, civic-minded citizens.

Such activities must be expanded, Mooney believes. To this end the police department has given the support of its personnel, its time and its fullest energies. Adults have been provided to extend leadership, equipment has been granted to the fullest extent of their powers.

"The time has come when we will have to look further, and provide more basic, long-range activity programs for our young folks," said Mooney.

Their object is to start a fund campaign to build a Boys' Town Hall, he revealed. Organizations and individuals are invited to contribute to this project.

The boys will be men not so far from now. They will remember your help.

Prominent Rancher Joins 'Westward Ho'

A nationally prominent horseman is a newcomer to the Ontario-Upland region. He is Wallace Burtt, rancher, of Billings, Montana.

Mr. Burtt and his wife, Bernice, have moved to Ontario for an extended stay with his mother, Mrs. C. Burgess, who resides on Plaza Serena. Two sisters, Mrs. Lloyd Noble and Mrs. Grace Burtt, are also Ontario residents.

"Bit and Spur", a national horseman's magazine, ran an article in a recent issue announcing that this well known horse trainer had left the Billings area for California. Mr. Burtt is continuing his interest in horses in this locality as manager of Westward Ho stables in Upland.

Besides directing and aiding in the rebuilding and improving of the stables and corrals, Mr. Burtt supervises the care of the many fine private horses boarded at Westward Ho and is organizing and instructing riding classes for adults and children.

Burtt has been a bronco buster, filly chaser or wild horse hunter, and range cowboy.

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP) — The application of a large group of Southern California van and storage companies for increased rates has been denied by the public utilities commission.

Miss Ontario Contest Near Deadline

Saturday, March 12, will be "Ontario Day" at the annual Orange show festival, it was announced following a meeting of the Ontario committee, meeting at city hall Monday.

The date was set following a communication from the Orange show committee inviting the Ontario chamber of commerce to name a day which would be named "Ontario Day".

Nine Contestants

John Gruys, chairman of the Miss Ontario contest committee, announced that nine verified contestants had already entered. The latest one to be placed in the running is Joyce Gilfen, 908 East Fourth street.

Applications will be received until 5 p.m., February 15, he said. Entrants must be between the ages of 17 and 25, may be married or single, and must be residents of Ontario.

The contest will be held in the California theatre on Friday, February 18. A preliminary contest will be held the same day at 3:30 p.m., when the contestants will appear before the judges. The public will not be present at the preliminary, it is announced.

Judges will be five photographers, not from Ontario, who will not know the names of the entrants, but who will judge by the number on the girls' armbands.

Counts Named

There will be no partiality, no "popularity" vote cast. The young ladies will be judged on these counts: figure, poise, personality, beauty and general appearance.

Contestants must come prepared with evening gown and bathing suit. Parents will be permitted to view the preliminary contest, Gruys said. Three girls will be selected, Miss Ontario and her two attendants, and they will be presented to the general public on the evening of February 18.

Tell Totals of Pension Seekers

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The state social welfare department reported today the number of needy aged persons applying for pensions.

The report said 3936 applications were received in the seven-day period ending Feb. 5, as compared with 4536 in the week before.

Los Angeles county continued to lead in the number of applications with a total of 1431 filed there last week. San Francisco had 354 for the same period and Alameda county 321.

These latest figures bring to 28,567 the number of requests for pensions filed since Proposition No. 4, the state's new amendment liberalizing pensions, went into effect at the beginning of the year.

The report said that as of Feb. 5, a total of 32,000 pension applications were pending approval by the social welfare department.

Harmony in Suit, Topper Sought in New Spring Models

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Adele's spring showing of suits and coats today joins the topper and the suit in a three-piece unit, coordinated by color and fabric harmony.

Harmony in topper and suit is achieved by taking a subordinated thread of the tweed proper and making the solid color suit of this secondary shade.

A linen suit was combined with a suede cloth coat. Cricket cloth and cashmere also made lovely topper material.

Long coat styles ranged from loose, hanging fullness to belted polo coats, and from coachman cut to reefers.

Short jackets varied from reefer styling to box, worn with or without a belt, and cardigan styles.

Coat notes are raglan shoulders, deep notched cuffs, standup darted collars and large patch pockets, three and four of them.

Contrasting facing under collars and sleeve tabs were a tricky note.

Suits boasted arrowheads from the slashed back and front of the skirts, to the slashed back of the jacket, and to the notched turn-back sleeves.

Dipped fronts, cutaway effects and vestee lines gave point to the front of suit jackets.

Edging, piping on buttons and buttonholes, and inside front facing brought to the fore more means of using contrasting colors.

ADDITIONAL FUNDS

WASHINGTON, (AP) — President Truman today signed a resolution making an additional $500,000 available for disaster relief in the blizzard-stricken west. The appropriation is the second of that amount voted by Congress.

Pneumonia Cure Is Reported

NEW YORK—The drug aureomycin brings quick recoveries from virus pneumonia, three New York physicians report. Aureomycin is made by thread-shaped molds that live in the soil. They belong to the same family as those that make streptomycin, another potent antibiotic.

Given in pill form, aureomycin knocks the fever in virus pneumonia down to normal within 12 to 48 hours, the physicians said. They are Drs. Yale Kneeland, Jr., Harry M. Rose, and Count Dillon Gibson of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University, and the Presbyterian Hospital.

The drug worked for people who weren't helped by penicillin or sulfa drugs, they said in a report in the "American Journal of Medicine." It not only brought the fever down, but brought general improvement. Patients recovered without trouble when they received the pills for four or five days. In two patients, the fever returned when the drug treatment was stopped too soon.

Virus pneumonia differs from the more common types of pneumonia, which are caused by germs, the pneumococci. Just what causes the rarer "virus" pneumonia isn't exactly known, but doctors suspect it may be a virus. Viruses are organisms, tinier than bacteria, which live only in tissue cells.

Aureomycin's quick action in this kind of pneumonia suggests that it may have some kind of anti-viral effect, the New Yorkers said.

Many drugs work against bacteria, which live outside the body cells. But scientists have been searching for some which will go farther and hit at the viruses, which do their work so differently.

Aureomycin was discovered last year by Dr. Benjamin M. Duggar of the Lederle Laboratories Division, American Cyanamid Co. It is effective against many bacteria. But it goes farther. It cures diseases caused by organisms tinier than bacteria, and known as Rickettsias. Among these diseases are Rocky Mountain spotted fever, typhus and scrub typhus and Q fever. On the ladder of disease germ life, the Rickettsias lie somewhere between bacteria, at the top, and viruses, at the bottom.

Mystery Still Surrounds Identity Of Author of Book on Lincoln

By E. B. LONG
AP Newsfeatures

CHICAGO—Has 35 years of historical detective work solved the mystery of who wrote "The Diary of a Public Man"? Frank Maloy Anderson, in his new book, "The Mystery of 'A Public Man'," puts the finger on Sam Ward as the author.

Some Lincoln scholars agree. Some have doubts.

Seventy years ago, in 1879, a series of four articles appeared in the North American Review. Called "The Dairy of a Public man", they weree eperinted anonymously.

Scores of Lincoln writers have used the diary as a prime source not only of Lincoln incidents, but as a record of the "secession winter" of 1860-61 in Washington. Interviews with leading politicians of the day are related in the diary along with gossip and opinion.

But use of the diary as a source of bona fide information apparently should cease. Anderson, in his boog published by the University of Minnesota Press, concludes the diary is a "semi-fictional" work.

Anderson, a professor at the University of Minnesota, started his hunt for the diarist 35 years ago and after painstaking research feels he has the answer. At first he thought the diary was genuine but changed his mind when he found none of the scores of possible authors fitted into the pattern of clues he had carefully worked out.

Then hee took another tack and assumed the diary was a fake. He discarded all "suspects" until there was only one man left. That man was Samuel Ward. A native of New York, Ward was a financier, poet, soldier of fortune, one-time literary agent for the poet Longfellow, politician, and best known as "king of the lobby". A man of considerable culture and social gifts, he is said to have made lobbying an art. It became evident to Anderson that such a man as Ward, with his wide group of friends in wartime Washington, could have been the diarist. He fitted completely into the pattern as no one else did. Other minor things began to point to Ward also. So Anderson says the 35-year-old search was ended.

In conclusion Anderson does point out that he believes there was a skeleton diary of actual events made by Ward, but that the author did not have the interviews with Lincoln and most of the material is nearly entirely fictional. Summing up his long years of detective work, Anderson says: "'The Diary of a Public Man' ought not to be regarded as a reliable source in any of its details. . . . the Diary might well be held in high esteem. But it ought not be regarded as history."

A check with seven Lincoln authorities shows few points of agreement on Anderson's work and his conclusion. Some state that the evidence is not strong enough to "convict" Ward.

But despite opinions one way or another, at least one famous Lincoln yarn may have to be discarded. Did Stephen A. Douglas hold Lincoln's hat while the President delivered his first inaugural address?

Anderson thoroughly investigated this well known incident. Historians have quoted the diary for many years saying Douglas held the hat of the new President during the inauguration ceremonies, thereby signifying that their long political battles were over for the sake of the country.

Anderson finds that detailed storie sin newspapers on inauguration day mention no such incident. None of the people standing near Lincoln tell of it in letters or memoirs.

The only mention of it whatsoever, Anderson finds, is in a Cincinnati commercial story printed some days after the inauguration and this story even quotes an unnamed Ohio representative as telling it.

New Insect Poisons Are Highly Dangerous, Scientists Assert

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Reporter

BERKELEY (AP)—One of the new insect poisons is so potent that a half teaspoonful spilled on the skin might cause death, says an expert whose job is to warn the public of such hazards.

Five drops of the stuff taken by mouth probably would be fatal, Allen B. Lemmon, chief of the California bureau of chemistry, told the American Mosquito Control association yesterday.

This chemical is parathion. It is highly important to agriculture because it is one of the most effective destroyers of plant lice and plant spiders. But it is so new that even the experts do not know the whole story of its merits and demerits. How it affects plants or the animals which eat plants sprayed with it is not fully known, but exposure to the air causes it to decompose in a few weeks, Lemmon reported.

Lemmon cited the works of many other researchers in a report on the deadliness of the leading new pest-killing chemicals.

One of them, he said, is even more deadly than parathion. It is tetraethyl pyrophosphate. It also is known as bladon, tep, tepp and hept. Three drops taken by mouth probably would be fatal, Lemmon said. It is an important killer of plant lice and mites. Fortunately, Lemmon said, moisture breaks it down quickly. This makes it less of a menace than many commonly used poisons.

'MINUTE OF PEACE CLUB' CATCHING ON; IT NOW HAS A LOT OF MEMBERS

OGUNQUIT, Me., (AP)—If you need a minutes peace in a hectic existence, you might join a club here that glorifies that very thinv. The "Minute of Peace" club is going strong—and placidly—in its 15th year as a haven for harried Ogunquit men.

Wives of the 45 members can't call up their peace-loving spouses because — by design — there's no phone in the clubroom. A large placard, reposing in the window, proclaims in triumph: "Men's Club. Minute of Peace. No Telephone Conn."

George Ramsdell, fisherman and lobster dealer, started the club but the wife of a member uttered a phrase which still lives in the organization's name.

Mrs. Burton L. S. McAfee, who had two lively children in the early days of the club, often was heard telling them, "When you are grown up I may get a chance to have a minute of peace."

One day when her husband left the house their daughter, Anne, five, asked, "Where are you going, Daddy—to get a minute of peace?"

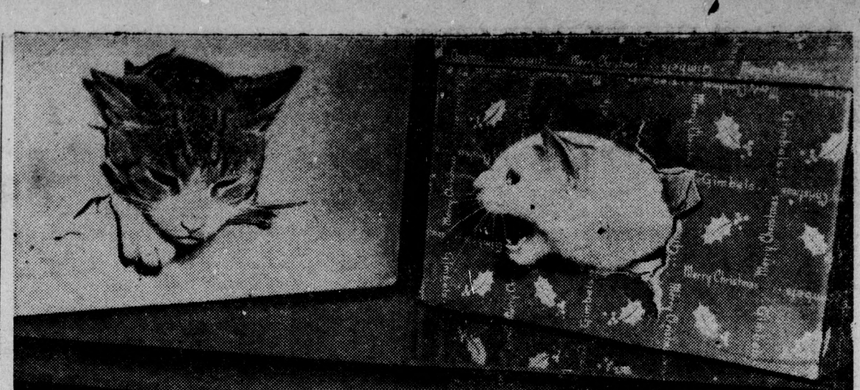

McAfee related the incident to fellow clubmembers, and they decided the phrase would suit them perfectly for a name.

It's in the winter season, when this exclusive summer resort has little for men to do, members say, they seem to get "under foot" in their homes and head for the club quarters. There they find peace for as many minutes, or hours, as they care to spend at the club's cribbage and checker tables.

Elks lodges are equipping their local schools with sets of "Our American Heritage", filmstrips that dramatize the birth and development of our democratic freedoms from Magna Charta to the present, bring the Freedom Train right into school rooms. The campaign is part of Elks' program to "make democracy work." The Digest produced "Our American Heritage" at request of the National Education Association and The American Heritage Foundation, sponsor of Freedom Train.

Judge Tried To Give Him One Year Too Many

DETROIT (AP) — Frank McHale, 47, convicted thief, took a year away from the judge—legally.

Blandly interrupting while being sentenced to four to five years, McHale protested it was a year too much and that he "ought to know. He'd had the same sentence before.

Recorder's Judge Christopher E. Stein, on the bench for 49 years, looked up the law, and agreed. McHale, guilty of larceny from a store, got three to four years.

Predict Production High in California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Continued high demand for California petroleum products and continued high production were predicted today by two Los Angeles engineers.

F. E. Minshall and M. T. Whitaker made the predictions in a paper prepared for next week's national meeting of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers here.

They said that if 1948 production records are to be broken, however, new fields must be found to replace declining fields.
